- I have met all of the PhD students in the following sense: I read and sign all applications for admission to the PhD program at the faculty, possible applications of changing your PhD curriculum and, in the very end of the study, read and sign applications for defending your thesis.

- I, together with Biljana, have also been available for the PhD students for all kind of questions concerning their study: Either formalities of the rules and regulations, but also if students have had some kind of problems which they do not want to discuss with their supervisor.

- Finally I must also inform you that I will quit as the administrative head of the PhD study next year because I retire in the end the end of the next semester. Erlend Fornæs Wold is going to take over my duties. So, following the Beatles, I say goodbye and Erlend says hello.
