

UNIVERSITY OF OSLO

Department of Literature, Area Studies and European Languages

English Language and Linguistics

UNIVERSITY OF OSLO

Important deadlines

Program structure

Courses

General information about studying at UiO

Questions

Introduction by the English Department

Covid-19 situation

- On this website you will find updated information about corona restrictions
- All students can complete a 15-minute infection prevention course before meeting up on campus

Deadlines

- You register for courses in Studentweb
- Sign up for courses within August 19 at 11.59 p.m

- September 1st
 - Registering in Studentweb
 - Paying the semester fee
 - Signing up for courses, including exams
 - Applying for leave, part time or delay of studies

Program structure taken from here

4. semester	ENG4191 – Master's Thesis in English Language
3. semester
2. semester	ENG4112 – Methods in English Language Research / study abroad	Elective course / study abroad	Elective course / study abroad
1. semester	ENG4111 – Corpora in English Language Research	Elective course	Elective course
	10 ECTS credits	10 ECTS credits	10 ECTS credits

Courses offered this semester

- ENG4111 – Corpora in English Language Research
- ENG4117 – Analysing advanced learner English
- ENG4152 – Varieties of English Texts
- ENG4157 – Semantics and Pragmatics
- ENG4165 – Old English: Language and History
- ENG4166 - Middle English, introduction
- ENG4169 – English legal language: Interpretation and meaning
- ...or relevant courses from other departments

Please look at the program structure and course sites when registering for courses. Note that most courses will have on-campus teaching, and all courses have obligatory activities (assignments, essays, oral presentations etc.)

Other information about your studies

- You can apply for part-time studies and leave of absence
- Deadlines for applications: September 1st and February 1st
- You will find information and the application forms here
- Absences or delays that are not pre-approved could in some cases lead to you losing your spot in the program
- If you get delayed with your thesis in your fourth (last) semester, you can apply for a 5th semester

Absences

- If you are ill and need a postponed submission deadline on your assignment, you must apply for it
- On this website you will find information about what to do in case of absence from exams

Remember to

- Check your student e-mail, and do it often
- Keep up with Canvas
- Check for messages on the program and course websites – the course site is also where you find the semester schedule, exam information, syllabus and requirements, e.g. ENG4111

Student ID and Student Card

- Semestercard/student ID for fall 2021: on your mobile phone
- Student card, as an access key for:
 - Reading room on the 8th floor in Niels Treschows hus
 - Classrooms and building (some only after certain hours)

To obtain a student card, book an appointment and then go to SiO Customer Service Centre at Blindern. The Centre is located in the Kristian Ottosen building. Required documentation: You will need to bring your valid student ID app/paper semester receipt, and your passport/national ID. Please see more here.

Other useful information

- General information about the start of studies
- Study abroad?
- Library
- Library resources for Language and Literature

Questions?

- Try google or uio.no, they will often have the answer
- General questions about studies at UiO: Knutepunktet or HF-studieinfo
- Questions about the program, courses, exams, etc: Tiril Borgå Johansen at studentinfo@ilos.uio.no

Any questions now? Or would you like to unmute and say hello to each other?

Good luck with your studies!

Introduction by the English department