

Evaluation criteria FIL2104/4700 – Spring 2019

The essays will be evaluated on the basis of:

- Understanding of the philosophical literature you discuss;
- Precision in analysis and argument, both with regard to your own contribution and the interpretation of the literature you discuss;
- Originality in analysis and argumentation;
- The relevance of the literature you have chosen to discuss;
- Accuracy with regard to language and formal constraints.

In general, the criteria are identical for the essays at FIL2104 and FIL4700, but in the latter case the requirements are higher for obtaining the respective grade.

The assessment is carried out in accordance with the general assessment guidelines for all philosophy exams:
