

Sensorveiledning KIN2300 vår 2024

Write about any of the travel accounts we discussed in class. The term paper should answer the questions we have asked travel accounts during the semester:

- Who traveled when, where, and why?
- Who was the author and what was the background of the creation of the account?
- How is the account structured?
- What topic(s) did the author care about?
- How is travel depicted in the account?
- What do we learn about Chinese history from this account?

The paper should also embed the travel account into its historical context.

It should consist of an introduction, a main body, a conclusion, and a list of references. Cite passages from the account where relevant.

You can also compare the account you chose with others we read in the course to highlight what makes yours unique. Use the relevant literature from the pensum as well as at least 2 other references.

You can write in English, Norwegian, Danish, or Swedish.

It should be around 8-10 pages (à 2300 character per page) + a list of references.

You can choose your citation style (e.g. Chicago Manual of Style).

The following should be considered when grading:

- Does the candidate engage with the primary source and answer all the questions in a correct way?
- Is the paper well-structured and presents the answers in a clear way?
- Does the candidate follow good academic practices?
