

KRIM 2952 / 4952 A Criminology of globalization

Course outline spring 2016

Room 770, 7th floor, Domus Nova

Mondays 12.15-14.00

Students are strongly encouraged to read beforehand the suggested curriculum for each lecture.

February 8: Course introduction: criminology between the global, the national and the local

by Katja Franko

(Aas 2013, chap. 1 and 9; Aas, 2012; Burrawoy; 2000; Sassen, 2007; Nelken, 2011)

February 15: Migration control, citizenship and social exclusion

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap. 4; Aas, 2014; Aas and Gundhus, 2015; Bosworth, 2012; Brotherton and L. Barrios, 2009; Carling, J. and Hernandez-Carretero, 2011; Ugelvik, 2012)

February 29: Terrorism and the 'war on terror'

Sveinung Sandberg

(Aas, 2013 chap. 5 and 6; Beck, 2002; Berntzen and Sandberg, 2014; McCulloch and Pickering, 2009)

March 7: Transnational organized crime

Paul Larson

(Aas, 2013, chap. 6; Varese, 2012)

March 14: Human trafficking, globalization and gender

by May-Len Skilbrei

(Skilbrei and Tveit, 2008; Aas 2013 chap. 2; Van Liempt and Sersli, 2012)

April 4: The changing role of the state

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap. 7; Bowling, 2009; Passas, 2000)

April 11: Transnational policing

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2007 chap. 5; Andreas and Nadelmann, 2006; Bowling, 2009; Knepper, 2011)

April 18: Conclusion: Global criminology and cosmopolitan justice

Katja Franko

(Aas, 2013 chap.10; Findlay, 2008)