Reading list

Main literature:

There is a wealth of literature on international arbitration. The following book gives an introduction to the main features of arbitration:

Supplementary literature:

The following two books give an in depth analysis of international commercial arbitration. In addition to analysing most aspects of arbitration, they make extensive reference to relevant material and further literature. Both books are highly recognised internationally; Gary Born’s book, with its nearly 3000 pages, is deemed to be the leading treatise worldwide.

Redfern & Hunter on International Arbitration, Student version, Oxford University Press, 2009

There is abundant literature on investment arbitration. An introduction to the field, which also contains numerous references to literature, is the following:

DISPUTE SETTLEMENT: INVESTOR-STATE, UNCTAD Series on Issues in International Investment Agreements
http://www.unctad.org/Templates/webflyer.asp?docid=3496&intItemID=1397&lang=1

There are numerous reviews specialising on arbitration. Among the most recognised are the following:

Arbitration International

International Arbitration Law Review

ICCA (International Council for Commercial Arbitration): Yearbook, Congress Series

Kluwerarbitration.com

Investment Arbitration Reporter

Journal of International Arbitration