Assignment 4: Group Presentation Instructions for the Thursday Seminar Group 10:15-12:00

Each group presents in the final seminar on 5 November. You have 10-15 minutes to present, followed by 5 minutes of questions. We will keep strict time.

Find an empirical example of digitalization yourselves, for example from the news, and discuss it from an IS perspective. How you interpret and approach this is up to you.

In your presentation:

- briefly introduce your example
- discuss it from an IS perspective
- refer to at least one mandatory reading
- illustrate your points with concrete details from your example

It's better to go in depth on one or two points than to cover everything, also because you have limited time.

Practicalities

- Everybody needs to actively contribute to the presentation. However, it is up to you with how many you will present.
- The presentation and the slides must be in English.
- Send your slides to shorn@uio.no by 4 November at 23:59. All presentations will run from my laptop.
- Cite the literature and any sources about your case on your slides.
- Each group will be assigned to ask questions to one other group, so come prepared to listen actively.
