Report description IN5510 2026

The deadline for the project report is Wednesday November 18 at 23:59.

Submit your project plan and your project report via email to jasminni@uio.no and guribv@ifi.uio.no.

This is a description of the expected contents and size of the report. The report shall include the following:

- Introduction / Background and problem area
  A background to the problem area is described to give an introduction to why the group chose this specific problem. The background description leads to the project's selection of the target group and design objectives.
- Case and context
  The context where the project has been carried out is described, including a rich description of the participants.
- The design process and prototypes
  Describe the process and prototype(s): how the project was carried out, which methods and techniques you used, your design choices and the prototypes you worked with.
- Analysis and discussion
  Give an analysis of the design process and/or the results and discuss it with the help of concepts and theories from the curriculum.
- Engagement with the literature
  Throughout the report, ground your arguments in the curriculum literature and, where appropriate, extend beyond it to relevant scholarly sources that situate your work within the field of PD. Literature should be used critically and purposefully to substantiate design decisions and analytical claims, rather than cited for its own sake.
- Declaration on generative AI use
  The report must include a declaration on the use of generative AI. Describe what you used generative AI for (e.g. ideation, analysis, prototyping, writing or editing), which tools and models you used, and how their use may have shaped your perception of the problem area, the participants or the design process. If you did not use generative AI, state this explicitly.
- Individual reflections
  Each group member writes at least 1.5 pages of text, reflecting on the project and your experience, using the perspectives, approaches and methods included in the curriculum, referencing some of the literature. (We prefer that these are submitted as appendices to the group report, but they may also be handed in separately from the report itself.)

The report must contain at least 6000 words and max 10000 words of text with font Times New Roman 12, single space. Write group number, project name and member names on the front page. The individual reflections are not included in the word count. The file name will be on the form "project_report_group_X". The project is mandatory. You must complete the project and write and submit the report together with your group to take the oral exam. See also Guidelines for mandatory tasks:

Good luck!
