

Statement on the use of course material in INF3151 and INF4151

The examination process for the courses INF3151 and INF4151 (INF[34]151) consists of grades received for project assignments, each constituting a part of the final grade for the course. For that reason, the following will be considered as cheating and handled according to the regulations determined by the Faculty of mathematics and natural sciences:

1. Giving away code (in either electronic or/and paper form), developed in relation with assignments, to students other than the ones in the project-group.
2. Copying whole or partial solutions to the assignments developed by other project-groups or students other than the ones in the project-group.
3. Giving away/distributing code or course material to persons not enrolled into INF[34]151 this semester, with the exception of course leadership and teaching assistants.

For the above reasons, all students must fill in and sign the following statement and hand it in within the due date for the first mandatory assignment.
