Program

Note: all time slots are subject to possible changes depending on the dynamics of the course days.

Thursday 21 November 2013

09:00 – 09:15 Arrival, coffee

09:15 – 10:00 Welcome, presentation of participants, expectations for the course and preparations for the first sessions.

12:15 – 13:00 Lunch

13:00 – 14:00 (Ellis ctd.)

14:00 – 14:15 Break

Paper/outline presentations by PhD candidates and discussion.

16:15 – 16:45 Summarizing day one and preparations for day 2

Approx 18: Dinner

Friday 22 November 2013

09:00 – 09:15 Arrival, coffee

Topic: When professionals go digital: tasks, tools, activities and assessment

09:15 – 10:15 Presentation by Andreas Lund: “Teachers as designers”. Discussion

10:15 – 10:30 Break

11:30 – 12:15 Lunch

12:15 – 13:15 Group work and presentations of “Toolf Orthoughts: Reexamining Thinking in the Digital Age” (David Williamson Shaffer and Katherine A. Clinton, 2006). (Article is sent to the participants).

13:15 – 14:15 Paper/outline presentations by PhD candidates and discussion.

14:15 – 15:00 Lessons learned. Summarizing and further plans.

Reading instructions

Members of each group (to be formed immediately after the registration deadline) are requested to read their assigned article carefully and prepare a) a short PowerPoint summary (one slide) and b) 2-3 discussion points in advance. All participants should read all three articles as preparation for the joint discussion. The articles (or links to them) will be mailed participants immediately after the deadline for signing up.

The following texts will be used Thursday 21 Nov:

The following text will be used Friday 22 Nov:

Paper instructions

Participating PhD students have two options for paper submissions:

a) Produce and prepare a 15 to 20 minutes presentation of a paper in progress, a paper outline or research design. The presenters will get comments and feedback from the course lecturers. Participants who select this option should submit their papers as soon as possible after the deadline 11th of November to Iyad Abualrub <iyad.abualrub@ped.uio.no>.

or:

b) Submit a completed paper (max. 5000 words) after the PhD course. Participants who select this option should submit their papers by Monday 6 January 2014.

Examination
1 credit point for course participation (80% attendance required)

3 credit points for course participation and presentation of a) paper in progress, outline of paper or research design during the course or b) submission of a full paper after the course.