Emnetittel: Case work in International Relations

Språk: ☐ Norsk x☐ Engelsk

Egenevalueringen emne-ansvarlig:
The course is taught by three teachers, one from history; Dag Harald Claes, Marc Wiggam, Karin Dokken, and myself.
We had about three cases each and cooperated closely on grading and all aspects of the course. It is a complex set-up (two student papers, presentations, teams that alternate case questions, blind opposition, presentations,etc). The contribution by Sverke Runde Saxegaard was crucial for the smooth administration of the operations in Canvas. It is imperative that we have this assistance also in the future.
This semester the course worked well and there were no problems, but Marc Wiggam has now left the University and we will need a new teacher to replace him. Dag Harald Claes ,stepped in when prof Ø Østerud withdrew, but he will probably not be available in 2022.

Oppsummering av student-evaluering:
Unfortunately, were unable to recruit students to fill the role as contacts this time. However, we have had close informal contact with the students al through the semester. No serious problems have occurred this time.

Forslag til forbedringer:
We have improved on this course many times and discussed all aspects re this, and I do not see any need for further improvement. The only issue is the cases – they are all American, and we have used them over several years.
